For The Victor - A Campaign Has Just Begun

A grateful Paul W. Cronin, examining solid support from his Andover constituency, rested briefly Wednesday and planned for the arduous campaign for the Fifth Congressional seat against his Democrat opponent John W. Kerry.

Cronin, the Republican choice for the seat held by his former boss, Congressman F. Bradford Morse, was clear cut winner in the Tuesday primary, far outdistancing his three opponents for the nomination, Lowell Mayor Ellen A. Sampson, Rev. Armand Morrisette of Lowell and George Macheras.

The former Andover selectman and state representative looked to the job ahead with confidence, noting, "I feel confident that we can do everything we have to in the next few weeks to win in November."

Cronin promised a hard campaign based on the issues against Kerry, who defeated a ten man field in his quest for the Democrat nomination.

As for the money factor mentioned as quite healthy in the Kerry camp, Cronin said he felt that while he did not have as much in the way of funds, "we are in the ball park."

As for campaign workers, Cronin said his organization could match that of Kerry's.

"We can match his organization. We both have an open type of organization and pretty much the same tools."

"Our computer work was better in the primary, as evidenced by the way we were able to get out the Republican vote in the district," Cronin said.

He is expecting a good race for the Congressional seat, based on positive issues.

As for a difficult campaign, Cronin said, "We've never had an easy one," referring to his prior candidacies for selectman and then for a seat in the House of Representatives.

"We have gone in with big odds against us before. We have won some and we've lost some. I think we can win in November, with the hard work required resulting in victory."

Cronin was particularly pleased with his Andover vote. "The town wide support was most gratifying. It was great to see the home town come through as it did and I will continue to work to maintain

Berberian Resigns From Post

The Andover school system's supervisor of general services Jack Berberian, has resigned, effective Sept. 30, to accept a similar position in the Bedford school system.

Berberian told the school committee Tuesday night that he regretted leaving, but the Bedford position offered more potential growth, as a more integral part of that school administration. It also carries a higher salary.

The School committee members present, Frank Hill, William Lane and Frank Griggs, voted to accept his resignation with the deepest regret, thanked him for his cooperativeness and wished him good luck.

Superintendent Dr. Kenneth R. Seifert spoke warmly of his pleasure in working with Jack, and his regret at losing him, and

Local Candidates Fail To Draw Vote

Despite local candidates dotting both the Republican and Democrat ballots, Andover voters remained at home in droves in Tuesday's primary.

A total of slightly over 4,600 of the town's 13,000 plus registered voters cast ballots and lent overwhelming support to Paul W. Cronin and John F. Kerry as the candidates for the Fifth Congressional district seat vacated by F. Bradford Morse.

The congressional race was spotlighted in this area, with Cronin an expected winner and Kerry facing a more difficult challenge in a ten candidate race for the nomination.

Democrats outnumbered Republicans in the Andover voting, an unusual occurrence.

There were 2,120 Republican ballots cast and 2,522 Democratic, attributed to the local candidates on the Democrat ballot as well as local interest in the Kerry campaign.

Strong support was given the Cronin candidacy with 1,710 votes over Lowell Mayor Ellen Sampson, with 257, Father Armand Morrisette, 54 and George Macheras, 46.

Kerry captured 1,179 votes in Andover, with Lawrence Rep. Anthony R. DiFruscia second in that race with 376.

County Commissioner Candidate Donald W. Gardner of Andover, unsuccessful in his bid for nomination received strong Andover support with 1,045 votes, leading incumbents William Donovan with 508 and Daniel Burke with 44.

John R. Williams of Dartmouth Road, unsuccessful for nomination to the Register of Deeds post, received 907 Andover votes on the Democrat ballot.

The successful nominee on the Democrat ballot was incumbent Thomas Furke of Lawrence who will face Arthur J. DeFusco of Gemini Circle in the November election.

Republican William Nagle of Andover was successful in his nomination bid and received the support of 1,781 Andover voters.

In the only race for a state representative post, Atty. Arthur Sobil of Lawrence was nominated to oppose incumbent William G. Arvanitis in the 17th district which is composed of

Negotiations Arouse Speculation

By Helen M. Eccles

Abbot and PA trustees' single coed school discussions stretch on, as the ideal moment for their announcement draws near -- Theodore Sizer's Sunday installation as Phillips Academy's new headmaster.

This lends more suspense to the installation than such ceremonies usually muster. Ted Sizer may be writing two installation speeches at this point.

"I am in no big swivet to get this thing settled by installation," Sizer told the TOWNSMAN. "I never said that. I am eager for a trustee decision one way or the other as early as possible, in time for the beginning of the 1973-1974 admissions season, at the first of November. The trustees decision will affect the admissions of both our schools. I remain very hopeful because of the inherent wisdom of the plan."

Sizer's and Abbot Academy Principal Don Gordon's proposal for combining Abbot into Phillips Academy to form a single coed school at Phillips was not voted through at last weekend's special trustee meetings, reportedly because of an Abbot trustee amendment which the Phillips trustee meeting then found unacceptable. Negotiations continue through a subcommittee of both boards.

Indications are that the amendment included an Abbot trustee attempt to include the Abbot name in the coed school's name, symbolic of continuance of Abbot's tradition and educational philosophy after its absorption into the boys' school which is older, larger and more heavily endowed.

An information letter from Abbot's trustee president, Philip K. Allen and Principal Gordon told Abbot alumnae, parents and friends later last week that the negotiations involved much detail, "some of it not without controversial features - the name of the new institution being the greatest it appears."

No one, including Abbot officials, can be surprised that the Phillips trustees would not agree to change the Phillips Academy

Eight New Students In ABC Program

Andover's A Better Chance (ABC) program has begun its sixth year of operation with eight new students, sophomores and juniors, joining the six former students at the ABC dormitory, 134 Main St.

The students were welcomed by Ken and Eileen Rogers, the new resident directors, as well as Lou Rozzi and Tony Fallasi, resident tutors from Merrimack College.

Mrs. Rogers teaches mathematics at Andover High School.

The students come from ghetto and rural areas from California to South Carolina to New York. Through the ABC program, the boys will have an opportunity to grow intellectually and socially by participating in the academic life at the high school as well as the cultural offerings of the community. Former graduates of the program are now attending Harvard, Dartmouth, Northwestern, Northeastern and other colleges and universities on full scholarships to pursue further education and career goals.

To supplement dormitory life, each student becomes part of a host family in Andover with whom he has dinner each Wednesday and with whom he lives one weekend a month.

A family picnic was held last Saturday at Recreation Park for the boys, their host families and the ABC board of directors. The picnic was co-ordinated by Margot Bixby, wife of ABC Board President George Bixby, III, Gail Anderson offers leadership to host families. William Deacon, Jr., former ABC resident director, is vice president of the board, Dorothy Klie, secretary.

ABC students this year include: Wayne Hodge, Cleveland, Ohio; Dan Sheppard, Columbus, Ohio; Jean Maynard, Bronx, N.Y.; Raymond Negron, Bronx, N.Y.; Tyrone Graves, Washington, D.C.; Nate Williams, Memphis, Tenn., sophomores: Carlos

Dep. Downs Awarded Scholarship

Deputy Chief William T. Downs of the Andover Fire Department recently became one of the 11 winners of an International Association of Fire Chiefs Scholarships.

This announcement was made at the Association's regular business session of its 99th Annual Conference.

For 11 consecutive years this competition has been held in cooperation with business firms in order to supply an incentive for higher education in the fire service.

Deputy Chief Downs, a native of Andover and a 17-year veteran of the Fire Department, is presently enrolled at North Shore Community College where he is studying for his Associate Degree in Fire Science Technology.

A $250 tuition grant which accompanies the scholarship was made possible by the Fire Apparatus Manufacturers Division of the Truck Body and Equipment Association, a Chevy Chase, Maryland-based association of manufacturers in the truck building field.

Deputy Chief Downs, a graduate of Central Catholic High School, is a veteran of World War II and was appointed to the Andover Fire Department July 26, 1955.

Promoted to the rank of lieutenant in 1959, he was named acting deputy chief on June 2, 1963 and deputy chief on Feb. 2, 1964.

A native of Andover, he is the son of Mrs. Rita Downs and the late Edward Downs. He resides at 147 Elm St. with his wife, the former Bernice E. Bryant and their three daughters, Kathleen, Barbara and Lesley.

Paper Money Funds Ecology

The town has realized its first profits from sale of newspapers brought to the dump for recycling, and is planning toward recycling of glass for a profit too.

Furthermore, the town is committed to building recycling into any plans for municipal trash collection, according to Department of Public Works Chief Robert McQuade.

"Anyone who has gotten into the solid waste field in any depth knows that our only salvation is to develop our recycling talents. The only way we're going to solve this problem is to develop our technical systems and develop markets for recycling."

McQuade reports initial receipts of $67.38 from the late summer newspaper collections, since the town took over the recycling center the Andover Ecology Action has maintained at the dump for the last two years. This money is for 26,970 pounds of newspapers which are being reused, conserving the natural resource of trees, instead of fluttering around filling up and cluttering up the Andover landfill operation.

The checks will continue to roll in regularly, McQuade said, and will become larger as more citizens are educated to recycling and bring all their newspapers to the recycling center at the dump.

Meanwhile, McQuade told the TOWNSMAN, the town is planning for storage and resale of glass, certainly when the new sanitary landfill opens, possibly before that time. The town must determine whether it is more economical to sell to the Connecticut firm that now buys glass for $20 a ton, or to a closer Cambridge firm that gives just $10 a ton. After that decision, the town can advertise for bids from truckers, McQuade indicated.

McQuade had high praise for Andover Ecology Action. "The thing to stress is that we were doing absolutely nothing two years ago. Only the action of kids, starting from scratch and with no funds at all over a period of two years opened the town's eyes. We wouldn't be even off the ground now with a program if it were not for the efforts of the kids and others in the ecology group."

The actual takeover of recycling efforts at the dump was implemented by the town's hiring a monitor with Federal Emergency Act funds.

Monitor Vernon Connor shares responsibility with Rudy Per-ron's landfill staff for generally keeping the disposal area in good condition, but has the particular responsibility for maintaining the recycling area.

Previously, this was supervised by AEA students from the public secondary schools, Abbot and Phillips Academies, operating in shifts each Saturday morning, in good weather and bad, with a number of adults volunteering as drivers.

Hiram Samel, son of Mr. and Mrs. Norman Samel of Andover is among the new students who began studies at St. Paul's school, Concord, N.H. this month.

Education for the Mrs.

The Housewives' Credo

Tuition costs have been cut almost in half for non-credit courses because:

- Every Housewife has a right to supplement her college education or get the education she somehow missed out on after high school
- Every Housewife is entitled to a change from the daily routine of cooking, cleaning, and grocery shopping
- Every Housewife has an untapped potential to enrich her mind by pursuing a course of study
- Every Housewife should be aware of how she can benefit by taking part in Merrimack College's Evening Program

Enrollment is NOW for credit and non-credit courses in Merrimack's Evening Division. School starts September 18, so write or phone today for Evening Division catalogue and additional information: (617) 685-1555

NEW DORM. The Elbridge Stuart House at Phillips Academy, a new dormitory which will be dedicated on Saturday as part of the weekend installation ceremonies for the school's new headmaster.

New Dorm To Be Dedicated

Phillips Academy dedicates a brand new dormitory Saturday at 4:30 p.m. in the first of the weekend ceremonies marking the installation of Theodore Sizer, its new headmaster.

The public is invited to attend. The uncluttered redwood building newly standing among pine trees on a knoll above Highland Road is the gift of Elbridge H. Stuart, Class of 1908, of Los Angeles, California. Principle architect is Pietro Belluschi, who was honored this year by the American Institute of Architects with the Gold Medal, its highest award.

But Elbridge Stuart will not be present for the ceremony as planned. His family have just informed Phillips officials that the donor of the $700,000 new dormitory lies critically ill in the days just preceding the dedication. He will be represented at the ceremony by S. A. Hलगren, senior vice president of the Carnation Company, a close friend and advisor of the family.

According to Frederic A. Stott, who will be master of ceremonies, the Rev. Frederick A. Pease, the Academy's associate minister, will deliver the invocation and benediction. Both Theodore Sizer and Mr. Hलगren will speak briefly, before Phillips Academy Trustee Chairman Donald H. McLean officially accepts and names the new dormitory. A final speaker will be Architect Belluschi, who has served as consulting architect to the Academy for the past 15 years, during the Academy's great building program under its late headmaster, John Mason Kemper, whom Sizer succeeds.

Belluschi designed Elbridge Stuart House in conjunction with Jung/Brannen Associates, Inc. A committee of faculty, wives and students consulted with the architects during the design stage. The $700,000 dormitory for 40 students and two faculty families has a wood frame for economy of cost and an element of rustic warmth. It also features a new dormitory interior design whose economy of design does away with corridors almost entirely.

Instead, five wings of student double and single rooms are each grouped around a small living room shared by the eight students of that wing. The architects gained space for these living room centers for each wing by the elimination of long corridors.

A large Common Room and a basement game room for meetings and leisure activities are readily accessible to students and faculty living quarters, and their informal furniture obviously is chosen for comfort, serviceability and cheerful color.

Another unusual design feature is the extent to which the entire building follows the contours of the land. Each faculty apartment, for example, has five different levels.

Elbridge Stuart House's resident faculty families are Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Foster and Mr. and Mrs. Clement Morell. Morell also serves as chairman of the Pine Knoll Cluster of three dormitories -- Stuart House, Fuess House and half of Nathan Hale House, the latter two adjacent to nearby Rabbit Pond.

A PA dormitory cluster functions as the living and counseling unit for students during their entire stay at PA, and here most of their activities outside the classroom are centered.

Workmen were scurrying around Elbridge Stuart House this week to complete the finishing touches. Faculty families have been in residence since early September, but students were moving in only yesterday, and today. That gives them one day to settle in, and be ready for the dedication ceremony of their dormitory, with an open house and guided tours of their new home afterward.

General contractor for the $700,000 dormitory, which contains 20,000 square feet, is C&L Construction Company, of Greenland, N.H.

Diabetes Group In Session

Dr. Leo Krall, Senior Staff Member of the Joslin Clinic and the Deaconess Hospital opened the new year for the Merrimack Valley Diabetes Education Program at their first meeting which was held at the Western Electric Company in North Andover, recently.

The highlights of Dr. Krall's discussion was for diabetics and their families not to be discouraged as he pointed out the great strides already made in the control of diabetes and more are coming to make life easier for all.

An audience of approximately 115 came from all parts of the Merrimack Valley to hear Dr. Krall.

The new Board Members were announced by Mrs. R. J. Pelrine, chairman. For the year 1972 - 1973 the following were elected to the Board. Dr. Harry Kaloustian, Dr. Richard Sandler, Lawrence, who are medical advisors to the group; Miss Ruth Westcott, R.N., Mrs. Carol French, Mrs. Kathleen Salvi, Miss Anita Charpentier, health co-ordinator, all of Andover; Mrs. Lucy Licciardi, Bart Antista, Dr. Edward Bulger - John Connors of North Andover; Mrs. Dorothy Masker, of Tewksbury; Richard Morrisette, Miss Eleanor Mesquita, Health Co-ordinator, both of Methuen; Mrs. Elayne Hurley of Plaistow, N. H., Thomas Lynn, Peter Stevensen, Health Co-ordinator, Charles Haig, and Dr. Charles Kokulis, of Haverhill.

The Executive Committee includes Mrs. Theresa Nicholson, Atty. Fred Flather, III, George Goodman, Board of Trustees of Bon Secours Hospital, William Lane, Administrator of the Bon Secours Hospital, and William Koughan, Assoc. Administrator of the Lawrence General Hospital; along with the newly elected officers who are Mrs. Doris Pelrine, President, Joseph McClintock, Vice President; Mrs. Winifred Bulger, Treasurer and Mrs. Anne Hubbard, R. N., clerk.

Mrs. Pelrine stated that the aim of the Diabetes Education Program is to educate, simply in the field of diabetes and with the larger number of Board Members, the group hopes to attain this goal.

There are no dues or admission fees. Anyone and everyone interested in Diabetes is welcome.

The next meeting will be on Oct. 24, 7:30 p.m.; at Western Electric Company.

Cargill Awarded Fellowship

Robert W. Cargill, Jr. of Andover has been awarded a Masters Teaching Fellowship at Springfield College for the 1972-73 Academic year.

Cargill, a 1963 graduate of Andover High School, was graduated from Springfield College in 1968, at which time he was awarded a Bachelor of Science degree. He taught at Framingham South High School during the 1968-69 school year, and returned to Springfield College in the fall of 1969 to assist in the gymnastics program.

As a Masters Teaching Fellow at S.C., he will assist in the teaching of sports skill and technical courses, including gymnastics.

Cargill was awarded one of 16 teaching Fellowships which were available this year within the departments of Springfield College to qualified graduate students.

He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Cargill of 57 Carmel Road.

Recreation Roundup

Preserving And Utilizing Open Space Mandatory

By Gary C. Ralph

Historically, parks are, by definition, places where Kings chased animals for the pleasure of the hunt.

Today, we have assigned a definition which states that a park is a tract of land, more or less in its natural state, to be used for games, walking, riding or general recreation. This concept of parks has not changed in the last 50 years. However, the physical topography surrounding man has changed drastically. The vacant lot or field I remember from my ball playing days is now a housing development. How many times have you said, "And we used to play ball where that store, factory, etc. is now?" So, what is the point of this article?

My point is simply that we must seriously consider methods of preserving and utilizing effectively the open space that remains. Andover is a prime example for the point I'm trying to make. It has had an incredible growth rate in the last ten years.

Along with the new schools, homes, factories and streets we have seen progress's undesirable companions. These companions have been falling trees, disappearing fields and our natural surroundings altered.

Where will we recreate?

The way I see it, there are two choices available.

The first is to travel to an area fifteen or more miles away. The idea that recreation occurs only after travel is absurd. I am sure AVIS and the Conservation Commission would wholeheartedly agree. They have responded to the reality of disappearing land by preserving a number of tracts in their natural beauty. I support their attitude and applaud their success.

But what about our second choice which is land for active and varied recreation that is conveniently located? Our parks should offer people a choice of recreational pursuits. It takes only a superficial glance to recognize that we have slipped up. We, meaning the Recreation Department, offer few park services in the areas under our jurisdiction such as Recreation Park, Pumps Pond, etc. It's easy to say, "But there is the ball field at Rec. Park." or "What about the beach at Pumps Pond?" However it is difficult to count past the fingers of one hand in listing the services and inducements in our parks.

To offer woods, trails and nature is fine for an organization such as AVIS or the Conservation Commission.

But the Recreation Department is in the business of offering recreation. Our objectives are broader, more diversified, more complicated, if you will, stemming from the mandate to provide active recreational services to all Andover citizens.

I think it's time we woke up to the realities of Andover and started considering our park program. I will be more specific in future articles as to what actions we should take.

Symphony Bus To Resume

The Boston Symphony Bus will begin on Sept. 22 its series of 20 trips of the '72 - '73 season, taking concert-goers from the Greater Lawrence area to the Friday afternoon concert series of the Boston Symphony Orchestra.

The bus will leave from Salem St., Andover, opposite the Phillips Academy Bell Tower, promptly at 11 a.m. Going to Boston, the bus will make the following stops: Lechmere Square, Arlington St. near Boylston St., Huntington Ave. at Prudential Center, Symphony Hall, Museum of Fine Arts.

The return trip will be from in front of Horticultural Hall on Massachusetts Ave., 15 minutes after the concert ends, and will be non-stop to Andover.

20-trip and 10-trip subscriptions to the bus are available, and subject to space on a given Friday, individual tickets may also be purchased.

The bus is sponsored by the Andover-North Andover Friends of the Boston Symphony Orchestra.

Students At Gov. Dummer

Governor Dummer Academy will open for the 210th year on September 13 under the leadership of its newly appointed 25th headmaster, John W. Ragle.

Ragle, son of Mrs. Benjamin Ragle and the late Dr. Ragle of Boston, is a graduate of Phillips Exeter Academy and of the University of Chicago in 1943. After serving two years in the U.S. Air Force, he did graduate work at Harvard and in 1947 joined the faculty of Governor Dummer Academy as an instructor of English and French.

In 1966 Ragle was appointed Lecturer in Education and Supervisor of Student Teaching in the Department of Education at Dartmouth College and since 1970 he has also served as Director of the Master of Arts in Liberal Studies Program there.

Notable among his numerous publications is Governor Dummer Academy History, 1763-1963 (Newburyport Press, Inc.).

This year's student body of 320 represents 27 states, Puerto Rico, the Virgin Islands, and 5 foreign countries. There are 208 boarding students and 112 day students enrolled for the 1972-73 school year. Forty-two of these day students are girls, an increase of 18 over last year's beginning girl enrollment.

Local students attending Governor Dummer this year are:

Andover

Steven B. French, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert L. V. French.
Robert N. Scribner, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert J. Scribner.
James N. Fox, son of Mr. and Mrs. James E. Fox.

CHECKING PROGRAM. Members of the Andover Chamber of Commerce met last week to outline their programs and plans for town officials. Left to right, Austin E. Anderson, retail council chairman; Robin E. Neill, chamber president; Jerome Tagg, vacant land study council chairman; Chairman Robert A. Watters of the board of selectmen and Archibald D. Maclaren, downtown planning council chairman.

Chamber Examines Program

Council and task force chairmen of the Andover Chamber of Commerce met last Thursday evening at the Andover Inn to project their plans and outlined for the selectmen and town manager, in attendance, an ambitious undertaking aimed at assisting the town.

The chamber, this year, under the direction of Robin Neill, president, is aiming its efforts toward community improvement and development as part of an overall Andover Chamber effort.

Among the programs will be one directed by Archibald D. Maclaren, chairman of the downtown planning council.

Maclaren told his colleagues of the continued effort and need to improve parking conditions in the downtown area, noting that the problem will never get any better.

In this regard, he, and his committee are working with the town planning board. Traffic problems are also under study by the council in consort with the planning board.

Expansion of the business zone in the downtown area, establishment of a bylaw regarding signs, to eliminate any probability of a downtown hodgepodge, are also among the council's considerations.

Atty. Andrew F. Shea, chairman of the general services council, told of plans to increase Chamber membership, establishing community action groups to work with town officials regarding community development, will also be within the scope of the council activity.

Jerome Tagg, who heads the vacant land development council, reported that his group will be looking at what land is available with an eye toward proper disposition of both new properties and older structures where vacancies exist.

Forums and seminars are planned during the course of the year and will be in charge of Atty. Charles Dalton, who is planning an initial venture in late October.

Austin E. Anderson, who will chair the retail council, or retail task force, explained that this committee will be continuing efforts to promote Andover as a pleasant, friendly place to shop.

He also noted that the needs of the downtown area are a part of the overall town needs, pointing to the over $12 million investment, businessmen in the downtown area have in Andover.

William B. Maren is heading the community and industrial development council. It was reported that this committee is moving ahead with assisting persons interested in Andover with pertinent information about the town. Reports of the number of inquiries received in the past year were given which indicated considerable interest in the area on the part of business, professional and industrial people.

The special session, hosted by Gerry O'Donoghue of the Andover Inn, allowed the chamber officials to outline to Town Manager J. Maynard Austin, Selectmen Robert A. Watters, Roger W. Collins and George E. Heseltine, their plans and goals for the year, with some exchange on the part of town officials.

President Neill stated at the outset that the Chamber was cognizant of the economic climate of the area at present and interested in being of assistance.

Neill said that the council concept was devised to meet the needs of the time, and that working in company with the municipal officials working together toward equitable solutions to community problems.

U. F. Dinner On Monday

Over 1100 people will be in attendance at the second annual Merrimack Valley United Fund Dutch Treat Dinner to be held Sept. 25, at 6:30 p.m., at Phillips Academy.

There will be no speeches, just a Budget Committee report by Edward A. Lemieux, chairman, who will comment on the needs of the agencies as reported to his committee of 75 persons.

Early pace-setter campaign reports will be called for by the general campaign chairman, Cornelius J. McCarthy, and it will pretty much indicate from these reports if the major thrust will be provided for an over the top campaign.

Y REGISTRATION. Registration for the fall program of the Andover-North Andover YMCA began Tuesday morning and as expected the popularity of the offerings drew a healthy response. A year ago over 1,000 registration were received on the first days of registration, a record not only for local Y programs, but considered exceptional on an area and national level.

Award Swim Program Certificates

The largest single segment of the Andover - North Andover YMCA's 190 Fall Program offerings will be the aquatic courses scheduled for the Phillips Academy pool.

Except for the Water Safety Instructors' Aide Course, which is already under way, the aquatic programs will begin during the week of Sept. 25 with few exceptions. (Girl Scout Course, Springboard Diving and Adult Recreational Swim start Oct. 2). Advance registration at the Andover YMCA office, 10 Brook St. is required for all courses. All these programs are open to Andover and North Andover residents on equal basis. YMCA program folders are available at YMCA offices at 10 Brook St., Andover and 33 Johnson St., North Andover.

Fall course offerings in aquatics include: Swimming instruction on all levels for boys 8 years and up Tuesdays 5:15 p.m., 6 p.m. or 6:45 p.m., girls 8 years and up Fridays 5:15 p.m., 6 p.m. or 6:45 p.m., or Wednesday 6:30 p.m.; Swimming instruction for women Wednesdays 8:30 p.m., for Merrimack College girls Wednesdays 7:15 p.m.; swimming instruction for men Tuesdays 8:30 p.m.; Advanced swimming for boys and girls Wednesday 7:15 p.m.; YMCA Skin Diving Tuesday 6:45 p.m.; Boys Scout Life Saving Tuesday 7:30 p.m.; Girl Scout Water Fun Badge Monday 7:30 p.m.; Springboard Diving Monday 7:30 p.m.; Recreational Swim for Adults Monday 8:15 p.m.; Fun Swim for men and boys Thursday 6:45 p.m.; Fun Swim for women and girls Monday 6:45 p.m.

During the recently concluded Summer Term program 92 courses were conducted in 28 private backyard pools of Andover and North Andover. A total of 829 pupils were enrolled and attended 722 class sessions for a total attendance of 6,112. A total of 313 certifications were awarded as follows:

YMCA Volunteers Honored For Many Hours Of Service

The Annual Recognition Program for volunteers of the Andover - North Andover YMCA was held last Wednesday at the Lawrence YMCA Day Camp on Captain's Pond, Salem, N.H.

The occasion honored 67 volunteers who donated 50 hours or more to YMCA programs during the past year. They are representative of the group of 468 volunteers who gave 11,734 hours in the 12 month period to make the extensive YMCA program possible.

Attracting the usual 100 percent attendance the program featured a catered clambake, a short speaking program and numerous awards. Executive Director Richard P. Cate served as master of ceremony and made presentations as did staff member Walter J. Kimball, Sr. and Elaine M. Kent. General Director Edward B. Bruce of the Greater Lawrence YMCA reviewed the recent Building Campaign effort and announced that bids are expected to be out in October. Andover YMCA President Fred H. Harrison stressed the need for expanded volunteer effort in order that YMCA programs may continue to grow right up to the time of moving into the new building.

The major award presented went to Elaine Kent staff member related to programs for women and girls, and top volunteer worker, who received a silver tray in recognition of 10,000 hours of service, 1967-1972. Lawrence Willwerth received a plaque for 500 hours of service with the YMCA Boys' Outing Club; those receiving plaques for 250 hours of service included James Beattie, Richard Chapell, Mark Costello, Bob Gildea, Maureen Gildea, Pauline Hamilton, Marsha Johnson, Bob Maynard, Joyce Milligan, Virginia Pelletier, Charles Richmond, Shirley Ritchie, Frank Swain.

Those receiving certificates for 50 hours of service during the prior 12 months included: (Fifth) Audrey Bedell, Elaine Kent, Bob Kent, Kathy Maxwell, Frank Monette, Ed Ratyna, Sallie Reynolds, Charles Richmond, Lawrence Willwerth; (Fourth) Priscilla Awley, Elaine Barrett, Chris Champagne, Richard Chapell, Ed Condon, Pauline Hamilton, Marsha Johnson, Edward Kershaw, Kevin Murphy, Shirley Ritchie, Robert Wright; (Third) James Beattie, Helen Chapell, Dot Christopher, Peter Crossan, Tom Fitzgerald, Madeline Mc-

Dr. Sizer To Address Residents

On Wednesday evening, Sept. 27 at 8 p.m. the Friends of Andover Memorial Hall Library will present "An Evening with Theodore Sizer," Dr. Sizer, newly installed headmaster of Phillips Academy, will speak informally to the townspeople for the first time since his arrival in Andover this summer. All are invited to hear his discussion on education today. He will speak in Memorial Hall at the Library.

For eight years Dr. Sizer was the Dean of the Faculty of the Harvard Graduate School of Education. He took his B.A. degree in English literature at Yale where he was Emerson Tuttle Fellow of Davenport College and where his father was a professor. Following two years of Army service and two years of teaching here and in Australia he resumed his studies at Harvard and received the Master of Arts in teaching degree in 1957, and the Ph.D. in American history and education in 1961. Before coming to Phillips Academy Dr. Sizer was on a Guggenheim Fellowship studying the process of change in American public schools.

Dr. Sizer will open up his discussion Wednesday night to questions from the audience. All educators, parents, students and interested parties are invited to attend. This talk will be the first in a series of lectures sponsored by the Friends of Memorial Hall Library.

Mixers Resume

The Andover Mixers bowling league will resume action Sunday at 7:30 p.m.

All members have been urged to be present and last year's final averages will be used for handicap purposes.

Richard McAnern is league president - treasurer and Tanya Wulleman is secretary.

Flower Arrangers At Fair

The waning days of summer find scores of North Shore garden club members planning their entries in the arrangements section of the Topsfield Fair Flower Show, Sept. 30 - Oct. 7.

The innovative theme of the competition is "A Cabinet of Flowers" with classes designated for six of the President's cabinet secretariats -- Treasury, Agriculture, Education, Communications, Commerce and Transportation. Winners of the first three classes will be eligible for the coveted special Creativity Award, while those who capture the blue ribbons in the last three will vie for the Nature, Art and Industry trophy.

An approved event of the Garden Club Federation of Massachusetts, and sponsored by the Essex Agricultural Society, which conducts the Fair, the competition will be supervised by Mrs. Raymond H. Thompson of Topsfield as chairman. The committee consists of the following garden club representatives: Mrs. E. Warren Wilkinson and Mrs. Warren R. Beaulieu of the Flower Workshop,

LITTLE LEARNER. Miss Mary Ellen Reiss an instructor, goes over some lessons with Jennifer Stulgis at the Singer Learning Center in North Andover. The new pre-school opened this past week.

Foreign Languages Offered

A number of Andover residents will be participating in the International Institute's Foreign Language Program, beginning next week.

Mrs. Jane Grant of 62 Osgood St., will teach intermediate level English (Tuesday and Thursday 7:30-9:30 p.m.). Mrs. Grant, a member of the Institute Board of Directors, has been a Peace Corps volunteer in Honduras, and director of a school in Haiti.

Advanced level English (Tuesday and Thursday 7:30-9:30 p.m.) will be taught by Roger Higgins, 3 Stonehedge Road, retired professor of English at Phillips Academy. This is Mr. Higgins' tenth year as teacher in the Institute program.

Mrs. Kathy Rodger, 27 Essex St., will teach intermediate level Spanish (Monday 7:30-9 p.m.). Mrs. Rodger is a Spanish teacher and was the Institute's coordinator of volunteer services last year.

Advanced level Spanish (Monday 7:30-9 p.m.) will be taught by James Couch, 19 Woodland Road, a Spanish teacher at Phillips Academy. Mr. Couch has participated in the Institute program for a number of years.

Wolf Berthold, 179 Shawsheen Road will be offering a course in basic German conversation (Wednesday 7:30-9 p.m.). Mr. Berthold is a retired engineer and former head of the industrial commission. This is a 10 week course that starts Oct. 11.

There will also be courses in beginning English and American idioms, intensive Spanish, French, Italian and Chinese. All classes have openings. Further information may be obtained at the International Institute, 430 Canal St., in Lawrence.

The term "checkmate" comes from the Arab "shah mat," meaning "the king is dead."

Massachusetts' first Singer Learning Center for Early Childhood Education opened its doors for the Fall semester on Sept. 13.

The new learning facility, located on Chickering Road in North Andover, offers a specially designed educational program for children beginning age 3.

Inside Singer Learning Center are interest areas of instruction for language, mathematics, environment, social sciences and expressive arts. Preschool, kindergarten and early primary level children have access to all equipment.

"We are particularly pleased with the excellent response from all surrounding communities," said Mrs. Irene Rochwarg of Andover, director of the Center, "and look forward to a successful year."

According to Mrs. Rochwarg, the Center anticipates a first-year enrollment of some 120 students. Mrs. Rochwarg also indicated that pre-school and kindergarten children may attend morning or afternoon sessions. However, the morning session has limited registrations open.

Transportation throughout the area also is available. Additional information concerning Singer's various enrollment plans for 2, 3 or 5 days a week may be obtained by contacting Mrs. Rochwarg.

School Redistricting Appears In Cards

School redistricting seems in the cards, with a possibility of some West Junior High students being redistricted to East Junior High at some midpoint in this school year.

Both junior highs are at capacity, Superintendent Dr. Kenneth R. Seifert reported Tuesday night, but West has 100 more students than East.

Committeeman Dr. Frank Griggs asked the feasibility of redistricting a fringe area of West Junior High students to East to redress the balance, but also asked plans for more general redistricting. Griggs said parents at Sanborn and West were unhappy having three schools still sending their sixth graders to West Elementary School. He said the west side of town would probably be the easiest to redistrict.

School enrollment has increased by approximately 175 pupils this year, but more significant is the fact that school enrollment is unbalanced, with more pressure on the secondaries. Elementary school population seems to have stabilized, as per Dr. Griggs prediction of two years ago, although enrollment is uneven among them.

Population pressure mounts at the senior high level, with 1400 students now in the 1200 capacity school.

The town has no new construction plans underway beyond the renovation plans for the town's two oldest elementary schools, Doherty and Shawsheen. The town manager, building committee, and members of the administration and school committee looked at architect's sketches for these last Thursday, showing several alternative plans for the projects. Seifert said that the timing would be tight, but he was optimistic about having working drawings ready by March town meeting. No October town meeting action is necessary, since the town approved funds for preliminary plans and working drawings last March.

The superintendent told the TOWNSMAN it does not now appear that he will be coming before March town meeting with a building program to alleviate secondary school crowding. He said more community discussion and understanding is necessary, to determine what is the best organization by grades for Andover schools. When that is decided, he said, the town can then build the needed school space to fit that plan, instead of throwing up an addition without an educational plan.

"It looks as though we will be going to some form of middle school," Seifert said. "Possibly K-4, 5-8, 9-12. But it could also be K-5, 6-8 and 9-12." Both plans would call for a four year high school.

The superintendent pointed out that either of the above plans corresponds to the general educational model he proposed two years ago of a school of inquiry for primary students, then in the middle years a school of exploration, stressing laboratory work in the sciences, and finally a school of application for the high school years. Here students would apply to real life situations the principles and ideas they have learned. The educator claims this model makes sense in the natural growth and development of a child.

Health Aides To Be Named

The school committee unanimously approved new Guidance Director Anita Charpentier's job description for two health aides to be hired to replace one dental hygienist, Ruth Cummings, who resigned.

Miss Charpentier said the health aides would have broader health roles in the system, giving the system "more mileage for less money." The duties of the new health aides would be (1) to assist the dental hygienist in class instruction, in the school's new dental health education program, which will be presented to the school committee soon. (2) set up and assist in classroom laboratories (3) assist nurses in health rooms with vision and hearing work, and first aid. (4) teach first aid in the classroom.

Bancroft May Need Sprinklers

It may be necessary to install a sprinkler system in the new Bancroft school to reduce the town's insurance rates.

The October town meeting will be asked to appropriate $5,000 for increased premiums on municipal property.

Town Manager J. Maynard Austin reports that the increase is due to larger premiums, particularly on school buildings.

The Bancroft, with its open areas, has had a considerable increase in insurance rates, thus the need for additional funds and a look at steps needed to reduce the premium.

Also to be considered before the annual budget item is considered for 1973 is the overall town insurance coverage, whether to set up a municipal fund for self-coverage, or to increase the deductibles.

To Install Sizer On Sunday

Theodore R. Sizer

Theodore R. Sizer, former dean of the Harvard Graduate School of Education, will be installed as the 12th headmaster of Phillips Academy, Sunday noon, Sept. 24, in a public ceremony on the school campus.

Mr. Sizer, who took office July 1, succeeds John W. Kemper, headmaster of Phillips Academy from 1948 until shortly before his death last December.

The installation program will officially begin on Saturday, Sept. 23, with the dedication of the Elbridge H. Stuart House, Phillips Academy's newest dormitory. It is situated in the Pine Knoll Cluster in a wooded area on the easterly edge of the campus. The exercises will begin at 4:30 p.m.

The new dormitory is named in honor of the former president and now honorary chairman of the Carnation Company, a graduate of Phillips Academy in the class of 1908, whose benefaction made the building possible.

The general public, as well as alumni and friends of Phillips Academy, are welcome to attend the dedication as well as the installation.

The installation ceremony will be preceded by a non-denominational service in Cochran Chapel, on the campus, Sunday at 10 a.m.

Following the service, an academic procession of trustees, faculty and representatives of the students of Phillips Academy, with representatives of other schools and colleges and Federal, state and local officials, will proceed to the Great Lawn, in front of Samuel Phillips Hall, for the installation.

Samuel Phillips Hall was named in memory of the founder of the 194-year-old boys' school.

In the event of rain, the ceremonies will be held in Cochran Chapel.

As is customary in official Phillips Academy ceremonies, the Clan McPherson Pipe Band will lead the procession.

The Right Rev. Henry Wise Hobson, retired bishop of the Protestant Episcopal Diocese of Southern Ohio and president emeritus of the Phillips Academy trustees, will deliver the invocation.

Gerard Piel, publisher and editor of Scientific American and a charter trustee, will present Mr. Sizer for induction to Donald H. McLean, Jr., president of the Lahey Clinic and president of the trustees, who will perform that rite.

Mr. Sizer's speech of acceptance is expected to deal significantly with secondary education. The new headmaster is a graduate of Pomfret School in Connecticut. When he announced his resignation as Dean of the Harvard Graduate School of Education in 1971, he said it was his intention to concentrate on secondary education.

Mr. Sizer, 40 years old, is a graduate of Yale University, where his father, Theodore Sizer, was a professor of Art History. The new Phillips Academy headmaster also holds the degrees of master of arts and of doctor of philosophy from Harvard.

Robert E. Maynard, senior member of the Phillips Academy faculty, and James B. Rydell, president of the Senior Class, will bring greetings to the new headmaster. The benediction will be offered by the Rev. James Rae Whyte, minister of Phillips Academy.

The Elbridge H. Stuart House dedication ceremonies on Saturday will be opened by Frederic A. Stott, chairman of the installation weekend program, with the invocation and benediction by the Rev. Frederick A. Pease, associate school minister.

The speakers will include Headmaster Sizer, Pietro Bel-luschi, the architect, and Mr. McLean, president of the trustees. For reasons of health, Mr. Stuart will be unable to be present. His greetings will be presented by S. A. Halgren, senior vice president of the Carnation Company and advisor to the Stuart family.

name with its 194 year old tradition and wide renown as a national school of open access for applicants of diverse economic and social backgrounds. PA trustees could argue that this is the best name to serve girls as well as boys, and that they aren't being male chauvinists, but realistic, to say so.

Phillips Academy under Sizer is probably readier than before for substantive commitment to some of Abbot's educational philosophy and to Abbot tradition--say naming an Abbot woman to a high administrative post, or raising money for a building all the students really need, to be named after Abbot -- but no closer to agreeing to the symbolic act of changing Phillips Academy's nearly 200 year old name to include that of Abbot.

The final outcome of the Abbot-PA discussions does not appear to close observers to be in real doubt. The Abbot letter told alumnae, parents and friends, "In sum, it seems that possibly the best opportunity we may have to combine with PA is at hand. There is suddenly much in common, as far as educational viewpoint is concerned; the material advantages obtain, as they always have. There are also large and critical institutional questions, some legal and financial and some centering on the future of Abbot's identity."

The loyalty of Abbot officials to a long strong tradition of women's education is understandable and commendable. But if the name of the coed school is the main obstacle to complete agreement, chances are good that the Abbot trustees will make up their minds in the next two days. Then Theodore Sizer's installation speech will tell something of the shape of the coeducational Phillips Academy emerging.

It shouldn't be difficult too swallow. For centuries, many a liberated woman who lost her maiden name at marriage, has exerted a strong influence in family decisions afterwards.

Drop $5000 From Item

The town will be asked to express an opinion only on the municipal collection of refuse at the October town meeting. There will be no funds sought for study purposes.

Town Manager J. Maynard Austin told the selectmen Monday night that he and Public Works Director Robert McQuade would work up the specifications and call for bids to be submitted to the annual town meeting in March, if the proposed pickup service is given the green light by the voters in October.

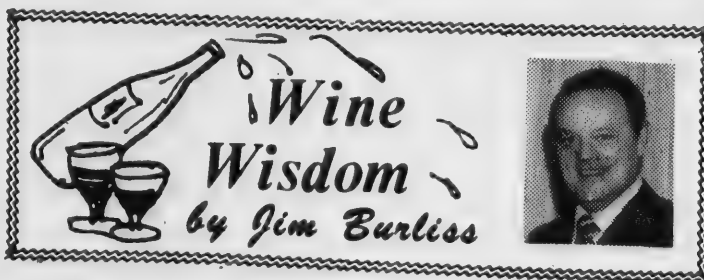

An article in the meeting warrant seeks $5,000 for consultants study of the proposal and assistance in drawing up the specs and call for bids.

The town manager now feels this can be accomplished by him and McQuade, thus there will be no request for funds.

The matter was a sore point with some members of the Finance Committee.

Dr. Albert J. Greenberg had said at a FinCom meeting that the $5,000 was unnecessary since in McQuade the town had an expert in the field of solid waste disposal.

In Leichtenstein, the death of a cow is recorded in the obituary column of the local newspaper.

THE ORIGIN OF CHAMPAGNE

Did you even wonder how Champagne was born? The year was 1679, the place, the abbey of Hautvillers in the valley of the Marne. "Come quickly!" cried Dom Perignon, a Benedictine monk. "I'm drinking stars!" The monk, winemaker of the monastery, had just tasted a white wine which accidentally had undergone a secondary fermentation in the bottle. Thus was Champagne born. Or so goes the story.

Flea Market Planned For YWCA

The Greater Lawrence YWCA will hold a Giant Flea Market in its building, 38 Lawrence St., Lawrence on Saturday, Sept. 23 from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m. New and used articles will be on sale at bargain prices. Small furniture, pictures, lamps, china, glassware, tableware, jewelry, figurines, knick-knacks, toys, games, paperbacks and other household articles will be available.

A snack bar will serve sandwiches, donuts and beverages starting at 10:30 a.m. A bakery sale of homemade goodies will take place in the lobby during the Flea Market.

Choice articles will be auctioned at 11 a.m. and will be available for inspection on the stage of the auditorium when the Flea Market opens at 10 a.m. The Auction will be in charge of Arthur Clinton of Andover and he will be assisted by several members of the YW Teen Department.

Chairman of the committee planning the Flea Market is Dr. Nina E. Scarito assisted by the following Andover residents: Mrs. Salvatore Basile, Mrs. Willard Currier, Mrs. Claus Dengler, Mrs. Douglas Howe, Mrs. Richard Morse, Mrs. Vincent Morton, Mrs. John Scanlon, and Mrs. Robert Sherman.

Artists Guild To Exhibit Next Weekend

Works in various media by members of the Andovers Artists Guild will be on exhibition at the Andover Gallery of Fine Art, 91 North Main St., Sept. 29 through Oct. 1.

The guild has more than 100 members in Andover and North Andover. The works will include paintings in both oils and watercolor, as well as in other acrylics and other forms of coloring.

Pen and ink sketches, sculptures and other arts and crafts also will be on exhibition during the weekend show.

Sanborn PTA To Hear From Gary Ralph

The Sanborn School PTA will hold its first meeting of the 1972-1973 school year on Wednesday, Sept. 27. The meeting will be held at 7:30 p.m. in the school cafeteria.

The principal speaker will be Gary Ralph, newly appointed director of the Andover Recreation Department. Mr. Ralph will speak on the community school concept and its effect on the Sanborn School and the Sanborn School district.

Refreshments will be served.

Creative Arts Courses To Begin

The Center for Creative Arts, Inc. announced this week that its "Exploring the Arts" classes for 3, 4, 5, 6, and 7 year-olds will be held in Methuen beginning Monday, Oct. 2.

St. Andrew's Church has offered facilities, located at Broadway, making possible the local offering of this unique program. Designed to give young children an exciting, meaningful and fun introduction to art, music, dramatics and movement, the weekly ninety-minute class has met with wide success throughout Massachusetts.

Mrs. Mavis Piper is serving as registrar for the course. Mrs. Piper expressed confidence that enough children would be enrolled during the coming week to warrant holding classes each Monday.

Mosquitoes May Still Have Free Flights

Conservationists may hold an upper hand which could produce freedom for mosquitoes despite action of the Oct. 2 town meeting regarding a mosquito control program.

The voters are being asked to appropriate $15,000 to institute a locally operated mosquito control program.

The article was inserted in the warrant by the selectmen at the request of a number of local residents who pleaded with the board for relief from the mosquito problems of the past year.

The program as proposed would result in lavaciding during the winter months and some spraying.

But, residents opposed to spraying and owners of property, may prohibit the town from spraying their property or placing insecticides on their land.

With the considerable holdings of the Andover Village Improvement Society and the town Conservation Commission, it would appear that an abundant amount of acreage would be removed from treatment, since both groups are ecology minded.

Also many residents in the community also subscribe to ecology factors and it is believed that they too, would request no infestation of atmosphere or lands with insecticide.

So, the status of the article seems to be somewhat in an ecological balance.

The town stands ready to proceed with action, should the voters approve the item, but in areas where their trespassing would be prohibited, no action would be taken.

The proposal was originally placed before the selectmen in early summer by Mrs. Laurence Lynch of Vine street, who pointed out the large number of mosquitoes, the harm being caused to children and canines and the inability of residents to use their yards during the summer months.

Her contentions were soundly supported by residents in various areas of town.

The board then asked the town manager and public works director to look into the matter and come up with a proposal for the October town meeting.

It was agreed that the best solution would be to go it alone, since other programs, such as the Essex County Mosquito Control project is already funded and would not include Andover until after next July.

It was agreed that effective combat against the mosquito problem must be initiated during the winter, when lavaciding would kill off the mosquitoes who would be rampant next summer.

Spraying with approved chemicals during the season would be of some effect, town officials

But the key is coverage.

The owners of much of the town's swampland or wetland areas, where mosquitoes breed, are the ecology minded AVIS and Conservation Commission, who have already expressed opposition to spraying or insecticide programs.

Monday night, as the selectmen examined the warrant, Town Manager J. Maynard Austin hedged on the proposed program, saying he could not recommend a program of this sort which lacked effectiveness, but would not oppose it.

precincts two and four in Andover. Sobil received 505 votes in Andover to 151 for Henry McGuire of Lawrence and 149 for Robert T. Kelley, also of Lawrence.

Arvanitis, on the Republican side, received 515 votes.

Running unopposed in the other state representative areas of Andover were Rep. James P. Hurrell of North Andover who received 770 votes in Andover which includes Precincts one, five and six, and Reps. Edward Grimley and Gerard Guilmette who represents Precinct three in Andover with a ward in Lawrence.

Town Clerk Elden R. Salter reported that all went smoothly on Tuesday with the election results tabulated by computer in less than an hour.

First precinct tabulations began being fed to the computer at about 7:25 p.m. and the totals were received for both ballots by 8:15 p.m.

For the first time, voters in Precinct three used their new polling place, Cardinal Cushing gymnasium instead of Sacred Heart School.

Bancroft PTA Elects Officers

The Bancroft School PTA has elected the following officers for the 1972-73 school year: Carmine DiAdamo, president; John Atanasoff, first vice president; Fred Wallace, second vice president; Patrick Rogers, treasurer; Mrs. Charles Gilliatt, recording secretary and Mrs. Vito Caiati, corresponding secretary.

The board will sponsor a family picnic at the Bancroft school Sunday, Sept. 24 from 12 to 3 p.m. In addition to many games and activities, coffee soft drinks and ice cream will be sold.

that confidence and trust," the candidate said.

Should his candidacy be successful in November it will mark the first time that Andover has had a congressman.

The last time representation in the Congress was in close proximity was back at the turn of the century when a member of the Stevens family in North Andover was sent to Washington when the two towns were part of another district.

Berberian

thanked Berberian for his assurance that he will give some time to the Andover system after Sept. 30, to ease the transition period. Chairman William King was absent from the meeting and Dr. Richard Katz arrived too late for the discussion.

The committee also accepted the resignation of a recently-appointed high school industrial arts teacher, Francis Halloran, due to an unforeseen family illness.

Appointments for the 1972-73 school year included Mrs. Sarah E. Hodges, at West Junior high, one-third time in Spanish, Mrs. Hodges is a 1968 graduate of Wheaton College, Wheaton, Ill., and has taken graduate courses in Tennessee. She has taught in junior and senior high schools in Nashville, Tenn., and was head of the foreign language department immediately before moving to Andover.

Teacher aide appointments were Mrs. Nancy Coombes, West Elementary, 21 hours a week; Mrs. Mary Poulin, Sanborn school, 35 hours a week; Mr. Victor Theriault, high school, 35.6 hours a week, all at $2.25 an hour. Mrs. Ruth Volksen will be instructional aide at Sanborn school 35 hours a week at the rate of $2.86 an hour. She is a 1971 graduate of the University of Wyoming, and was a grade 3 teacher in New Mexico last year.

Teachers' extracurricular appointments approved Tuesday night included Miss Karen Burke, East Junior High, newspaper advisor, for the second year, $270.38; Robert King, East Junior High dramatics coach, two years experience, $516.75; Mrs. Susan McLellan and Mrs. Marie Ferraguto; Math League co-sponsors, $168.75 each for the year. Each is a new teacher to the system.

At West Junior High, Mrs. Doris Bernardin one year's experience as debating coach, $347.62; Charles Wettergreen, newspaper advisor, one year's experience, $270.58; Miss Celeste Medici, math league sponsor, $337.50, in her first year in the system after majoring in mathematics at Merrimack College; Mrs. Pauline Porter, dramatics coach with one year's experience at West and extensive theater group experience.

The committee approved the appointment of three instructional aides for the new federally funded Title VI learning disabilities program for the year at $2.86 an hour: Mrs. Susan Pendergast, 12 hours a week; Mrs. Rachel Graber, 8 hours, and Mrs. Carol Brody, 13 hours.

Two Men At Wesleyan

Two area young men have entered Wesleyan University, Middletown, Conn.

George N. Cox, III, of Andover and Michael E. Billa of North Andover, were among the 445 freshmen beginning classes this month.

Cox, a graduate of Phillips Academy, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. George Cox, Jr., of Haverhill St.

As a student at Phillips, he was a member of the Photo club, Eco-Action club, National History club, Pre-Med club, and was also a member of the J.V. baseball team, skiing and soccer teams.

Billa son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward J. Billa of Osgood St., North Andover, is a graduate of St. John's Prep, Danvers, where he was a member of the Biology club, Great Books club, Cultural Evenings committee and on the staff of the school newspaper. He also participated in intramural sports.

Major Burke Completes Staff Course

Major John L. Burke, son of Mrs. Sarah J. Burke, 93 Poor St., recently completed the final phase of the command and general staff officer course at the U.S. Army Command and General Staff College, Ft. Leavenworth, Kan.

The course is organized into 10 phases and given over a five-year period either by correspondence or through the U.S. Army Reserve School System. The final two-week phase is conducted at Ft. Leavenworth.

The training is designed to prepare selected officers for responsible positions at division and support command levels. It also provides them with an understanding of the duties of Corps and Field Army General Staff officers, and of Army participation in joint and combined operations.

Major Burke received his bachelor of arts degree from Norwich University, Northfield, Vt. in 1955. He and his wife, Anne, live at 64 Haverhill St.

Attended Y Leaders School

Six members of the Andover-North Andover YMCA Junior Leaders' Club attended Area YMCA Leaders' Training Schools during the past summer.

Robert Gildea and Mark Costello attended the Northeast Regional YMCA Boys' Leaders' School at Silver Bay, N.Y. on Lake George for one week in June. Attending the week-long Regional Girls' Leaders' School in Wilbraham Academy, Wilbraham, in August were Maureen Gildea and Susan Heislein. Susan Childs attended the Kennebec Valley Girls' Leaders' School in Winthrop, Maine for one week in August and Frank Swain attended the Maine State Boys' Leaders' School at Ellsworth, Maine, also for one week.

Joyce Milligan served on the staff of the Girls' School at Wilbraham Academy. Carol Christopher, Chris Champagne and Carroll Reynolds represented the YMCA aquatic leadership in attending Area Red Cross Aquatic Schools for 10 days in June.

Registration For Pack 100 Is Scheduled

Fall registration for Cub Pack 100 will be held at Sanborn School at 7 p.m. on Friday, Sept. 29. This first pack meeting will be held to register the Cubs and give a detailed briefing to the parents on this year's activities.

Boys eight years of age or in the third grade are eligible to join the Cub organization. Those ten years of age or soon to be ten, may become Webelos.

Whether the boy is new to the pack or returning from last year, he must be accompanied by at least one parent to the session.

Dr. Robert P. Cipro

Opens Office In Lawrence

Robert P. Cipro, M.D., has recently opened his office for the practice of Diseases and Surgery of the Ear, Nose and Throat and Facial Plastic Surgery at 101 Amesbury St., Lawrence, and at 8 Merrimack St., Lowell, in association with Dr. Donald G. Keamy.

Dr. Cipro is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Peter Cipro of Worcester. He attended Tufts College for pre-medical education where he received a bachelor of science degree. At Tufts he was elected to Delta Tau Delta Fraternity and the Phi Beta Kappa Honor Society.

Dr. Cipro studied medicine at Tufts University in Boston where he received his M.D. degree cum laude. There he served as President of his senior class and was elected to the Alpha Omega Alpha Honor Society.

After an internship and surgical residency at Hartford Hospital, Conn., Dr. Cipro returned to Boston where he completed his specialty training at the Massachusetts Eye and Ear Infirmary. He then served two years in the United States Army, ending his service career as Chief of Otolaryngology at Womack Army Hospital, Fort Bragg, N.C. He resigned with the field rank of Major. For meritorious service at Fort Bragg, Dr. Cipro recently received the Army Commendation Medal from the Department of the Army.

He now resides with his wife Norma and two children in Andover.

Swimming Program To Begin

A recreation and swimming program for physically handicapped children residing in the Lowell-Lawrence area will start on Sunday, Oct. 1 at the Plains Community Center, Lawrence. This will be a cooperative program sponsored by the Plains Community Center and the Easter Seal Society for Crippled Children and Adults. The program which is free to all participants will be held each Sunday morning from 10 a.m. to noon through Nov. 19.

Emphasis will be on various recreational areas such as arts and crafts, gym sports and swimming instruction. Director of the program will be Mrs. Edmund Dowd, Jr. of Methuen, Water Safety Instructor. Specially trained volunteers will assist Mrs. Dowd. Instruction will be on an individual basis and skill advancement will be geared to the pace of each child.

Further information may be obtained from the Easter Seal Society's regional office at 26 Chestnut St. or the Plains Community Center. Volunteers with Life Saving or Water Safety Aide experience who would be interested in working in the program are urged to contact Mrs. Dorothy Sherrard at the Easter Seal office.

Communication

There would appear to be a serious lack of communication between a rather important municipal agency and the selectmen.

The Andover Housing Authority, which once was looked upon as a somewhat minor municipal agency, gives the impression that its new found powers and importance in the town's municipal operations supercedes that of any other.

Monday night, appearing before the selectmen, the board members discussed a proposed elderly housing project and acquisition of land on High street for low or moderate income housing units.

In both cases, the AHA seemed to be forcing the selectmen into action without adequate knowledge.

Pressure tactics such as this can easily be avoided by a little communication between town boards.

In the case of signing the certificate of funding for the proposed 80-unit elderly housing project on Main street, the AHA were asking the selectmen to affix their signatures to something not completely understood by the board, due to a number of factors.

At least one consideration, as pointed out by Selectman Milton Greenberg, was why the selectmen, in fact, had to sign the certificate.

Greenberg who campaigned for the job on the promise that the selectmen are bogged down in too much incidental mish mash which could be better handled by paid administrators, rightly felt that if the board is to sign the certificate it should know the full implications attached to the penning process.

As for the High street location, the former town dump, which the AHA would like to have considered as a low income housing site, the selectmen are desirous of having more information.

AHA members feel that they must show the state that it is attempting to meet its requirements in this area, in order to obtain funds for the elderly housing unit.

The selectmen, however, doubt the suitability of the former dump site for public housing, and request that additional information be secured and the matter of transferring the land put off to the March town meeting.

The problem existing between the two boards is easily correctable and should not have existed in the first place.

A little official communication between the two boards as to plans and progress would be helpful.

And, it does not have to wind down to a display of officialdom as to who should initiate the communication lines.

It rather behooves the AHA to be more alert to openness than aloof.

Installation

This is a rather significant weekend for Andover and Phillips Academy.

It will mark the formal installation of Theodore R. Sizer as the 12th headmaster of Phillips Academy.

Mr. Sizer has already had dramatic impact on the academy, with its proposed merger with Abbot or out-right co-education proposal at the 195-year-old boys preparatory school.

The new headmaster, who was dean of the faculty of Education at Harvard University until his appointment here, had expressed his intention of working closely with secondary school students.

His youthful vigor will bring to the school and to the community a man who can work closely with an important phase of the educational process of young people in their impressionable years.

His impact has been immediate as evidenced by his diplomatic handling of the five year problem of the potential combining of the two academies, bringing an ultimate decision that is much closer to culmination.

The enormity of the task before him in guiding the renowned institution in the years that lie ahead and setting an educational course to meet the immediate needs is somewhat awesome.

But, in his brief tenure, he has displayed fortitude and aptitude more than equal to meeting the task before him.

Sunday's formal installation will mark a challenging new direction for Phillips Academy, in particular and secondary education in general.

We anxiously await the guidance of the Sizer years at P.A.

The Chamber

A group of Andover Chamber of Commerce officials gathered this past week to outline for themselves a work load for the year ahead so to speak.

It was a somewhat informal, but important meeting for those leaders of the local business and professional organization.

Meeting with Robin Neill, president of the chamber this year, the group was in general agreement as to status of the economy of the area and the need for some attention.

Also recognized by those in attendance, was the need by the chamber to be attentive to the needs of Andover and the role of the chamber in being a vital force in assisting in the solving of the community's problems.

The course set at the meeting is a challenging one, in that it asks the business and professional people of the community to work with municipal leaders for the benefit of the town.

In not all cases will the chamber views be completely compatible with those of town officials or other leaders of the community.

But it is a move in the proper direction.

For the ten years of the chamber's existence in Andover, the membership has constantly made an effort toward being an integral part of the town's planning and development.

With the maturity of the past decade, and the enthusiasm accompanying the programs set out for the chamber officers this year, we look forward to a unified goal of accomplishment beneficial to Andover.

Off The Top Of The Desk

Last week's edition of the TOWNSMAN was the largest in the history of the paper which is about to embark on its 86th year.

The growth of the paper in recent years is appreciated.

Along with the 52-page edition of last week, our paid circulation has also risen, having surpassed the 4,000 mark these past three weeks.

As we continue to grow in size and circulation, our efforts are directed toward providing a constantly improving product for our readers.

And to the production department, the group seldom mentioned, but often heard from, a note of thanks for putting it all together.

These days when one asks if there's a doctor in the house, there probably is.

With the new season underway on television, there is an abundance of new medical people gracing the airways with their medical prowess which result in complete cures for all sorts of problems in an hour.

Having noted the presence of morning glories in an Andover location in these columns a few weeks ago, we feel it necessary to note an unusual stand of the flowers in North Andover.

An otherwise dull and unsightly telephone pole on Brewster street, provides some temporary sparkle these days as the blue flowers sprout forth seeking the sun's early rays.

For the curious, those signs you see about the landscape stating, "Thanks to you -- It's working," is the slogan for the 1972-'73 United Fund Drive.

The slogan is being used in campaign literature and has been placed on the billboards maintained by the United Fund people.

In Andover, the sign is located opposite the library and in North Andover in front of St. Gregory's church.

The information is meant to clear up any confusion as to what the sign is all about.

Unable, due to election laws, fair play, etc., to express our views which would have been adjudged favoritism, we have to point with pride to the overwhelming selection of the new president of the underwater United States.

Hoover Harborseal was by far and wide the most popular choice in the election just concluded at the New England Aquarium.

The seal was given new quarters to campaign from, thus having a slight edge over his nearest opponent, Thalassa Turtle. Homer Lobster placed third and Ichabod Cabot-Cod lost his home state and finished fourth, proving that the home vote really doesn't mean anything, in view of the cod being sacred in Massachusetts.

Holy Cross, which was the surprise of the New England football season a year ago, had its gridders viewed almost nonchalantly in its opening game won last Saturday.

More attention getting was the introduction of girl cheerleaders to the formerly all-male rah-rah squad.

Glancing at Sunday's sports pages of some papers it seemed

What Our Readers Say

To the Editor of the TOWNSMAN:
Visiting Andover after 30 years to see my very good friends Mr. and Mrs. James Waldie of 4 Buxton Court. (a wonderful family)

Went uptown for the morning paper and picked up the Andover TOWNSMAN and I remembered this paper since I was a youngster. It is still a very interesting paper. This paper has everything you want to know about Andover. It brought back many happy memories. I always dreamed of Poms Pond. I wanted to see if it had changed. I went to Poms Pond and loved it. I felt like a kid again. Andover is a beautiful town, and it is the beautiful people in the town that make it so.

The people of Andover are the most friendly people in the world and I just had to write to say how proud I am of Andover. Hope it never changes.

Harry Low
North Long Beach, Calif.

To the Editor of the TOWNSMAN:

A while ago at a town meeting I suggested that policing of the town dump with respect to dumping outside the fence and by those living outside Andover would be made effective by increasing the fine liability together with sharing, as a reward, a sum with the person reporting.

The selectmen on stage, aided by their counsel, gave the suggestion the porpoise pooh-pooh: Even planning board member King got into the act by telling me "You have been ruled off the floor"; as I had been by Moderator Williams.

Anyhow, again an idea of mine, whose "fault" is that it would be effective and economical, has been adopted in principle. This time by New York City.

Citizens who report violations of noise pollution are to be rewarded with a sum 25% of the fine.

However, it is still hoped that the Office of Selectmen will adopt the modification needed so that those who use, improperly, the dump or contiguous area will be fined, say $650 for each offense. $250 would be the sum paid as a reward to a citizen not an employee of the town.

This would be effective regardless of where a dump is and would be appropriate for getting a new location off on the right foot.

the females made more of an impression than the game, to one Boston sportswriter in particular, who took about three paragraphs to get to the game information.

The Bureau of Sport Fisheries and Wildlife is deeply involved in the investigation of the Red Tide which is plaguing the Massachusetts, New Hampshire and Maine coastline.

Northeast Regional Director Richard E. Griffith announced that men, planes and boats from the Division of Management and Enforcement and the Division of Wildlife Refuges, have been working night and day as well as on the weekend to determine the effects of the Red Tide on migratory birds.

Immediately around and in Parker River National Wildlife Refuge, Plum Island, Massachusetts, men of the Bureau picked up the following dead birds as of Monday: 196 black ducks, 1 mallard, 90 herring gulls, 1 black backed gull, 1 black crowned night heron, 1 green heron and 2 black bellied plovers. All of the black ducks were mature birds.

According to Griffith, the Bureau of Sport Fisheries and Wildlife is attempting to determine what, if any, effect the Red Tide will have, as the birds have started their fall migration southward. The Bureau is looking into what possible impact the Red Tide will have on birds which feed primarily in the coastal zone.

Saturday Movies Are Planned

The Andover - North Andover YMCA plans a series of Saturday afternoon moving pictures to be conducted at the North Andover Community Center building of the YMCA at 33 Johnson St., North Andover. The program will be open to children of both towns and any accompanying parents.

The program will start at 2 p.m. each Saturday at the "Barn" and will end at approximately 4 p.m. Refreshments will be on sale.

Intended to serve school age children the features will include: Sept. 23 "McHale's Navy," Sept. 30 "Francis and the Haunted House," Oct. 7 "Treasure Island," Oct. 14 "Rusty and the Falcon" plus Disney cartoons, Oct. 21 "Texas John Slaughter" and Oct. 28 "Shaggy." Bruce Battler, YMCA Staff Associate will direct the program.

North Andover A While Ago

75 Years Ago - September, 1897

A division fence has been built between the Averhill property and that of the Boston and Maine railroad in the Kimball district. The railroad has also constructed a bridge from the highway across the ditch near the place where Rea's cattle were recently killed.

The golden rod which has been unusually abundant on the roadsides this summer has given way to the purple and white asters which are beginning to put on brilliant autumnal hues.

A petition is being circulated by patrons of the Center post office to seek authorities in Washington to restore the service halted in July.

An artesian well has been driven by the Brightwood Mfg. Co. and good water has been located at a distance of about a few feet.

Inspectors were present Wednesday for the increased facilities at the North Andover mill and the Davis and Furbur Co.

50 Years Ago - September, 1922

Several political rallies were held Monday in Jefferson Square, with congressional candidates and those seeking county offices most abundant. A life and drum corps provided sprightly accompaniment.

The fire department made a fast run to the Farnham district in response to Box 74 but found no fire on Tuesday.

Dog Officer John R. McAvoy is conducting a vigorous campaign against unlicensed canines.

James Carroll of Sargent St., captain of St. John's baseball team this past season left recently to resume his studies at Niagara University.

The Tigers football team will open a six game schedule Saturday at Grogan's field meeting the Whiffle A.C. The second game will be against the Oakleaves.

25 Years Ago - September, 1947

Governor Bradford will be the guest of the monthly meeting of the Massachusetts Police Chiefs Association meeting to be held at the Town Line restaurant.

Post 2104 V.F.W. football team is practicing for its season opener against the Mohawks to be played next Wednesday under the lights at O'Sullivan park in Lawrence.

Residents have asked the selectmen to look into the town providing insurance coverage for members of the Johnson High football team. The matter will be discussed with school authorities.

Building Inspector Martin J. Lawlor and the selectmen agree that all new construction must be staked out and the bounds showing before any permits will be issued.

The Recreation Council has submitted its report and recommendations to the selectmen for their consideration.

10 Years Ago - September, 1962

The North Andover Teachers Association has submitted a salary plan to the school committee for consideration. A minimum salary of $4,700 is provided. Brooks School opened this week for its 36th year.

The school building committee received sub bids on construction of the upper elementary and addition to the high school and found the figures to be within the appropriated sum.

Town officials have met with the owner of a Sutton street business and asked that measures be taken to clean up the property.

The community school program for adult education courses is scheduled to open Oct. 2.

Pre-School Meets On Tuesday

The Free Church Cooperative Pre-School will hold its first parent - education meeting on Tuesday, Sept. 26 at the church at 7:45 with guest speaker Pamela Kvilekval, supervisor of Learning Disabilities, Andover public schools. All interested parents, educators and students are invited.

Mrs. Kvilekval will speak on "Early Identification of Learning Disabilities in the Child." She will discuss what is being done in this area in the public and private schools, and how the child can benefit from current, medical and educational research in the field.

Mrs. Kvilekval holds a B.A. degree from Simmons College and has done graduate studies in Urban Teaching and Administration. She was formerly supervisor of Learning Disabilities Tutors in the Newton public schools. Other positions she has held are Director of Title I project, Department of the Interior, Marshall Islands, Micronesia; the Principal of International School of Milan, Italy.

The Cooperative Pre-School opened for its 14th year last week with an enrollment of 19 children. The pre-school is non-denominational with parents assisting in the administration and teaching efforts of its teacher and director, Mrs. Priscilla Seewald.

Officers for the 1972-73 school year are: Mrs. Robert Van Der Zee, president; Mrs. George LeMaitre and Mrs. Peter Dundas, vice-presidents in charge of membership; Edward Meagher, vice-president in charge of equipment; Mrs. William Foster, secretary; Douglas Mitchell, treasurer.

The following youngsters are registered for this year's class: Deidre Anderson, Robert Carpenter, Ian Davis, Neil Dundas, Rachel Foster, Karen Goldberg, Heather Harrington, Darrell Karrfalt, Ellen LeMaitre, Matthew LeMaitre, James LeMaitre, David Maguire, Gail Maloney, Edward Meagher, Stephanie Mitchell, John Nuzzo, Sandra Pelc, Anne Skelton and Beth Van Der Zee.

Parents interested in the Cooperative Program for their child for next year's class (1973-74) are urged to contact the membership chairmen (Mrs. LeMaitre or Mrs. Dundas) for information.

Camp Fire Leaders To Meet Tuesday

A Camp Fire Leader Sponsor meeting will be held Tuesday, Sept. 26 at 9:30 a.m. at the South Church at which time there will be a uniform exchange.

Those parents wishing to donate Blue Bird or Camp Fire uniforms may contact Mrs. Baldwin.

Leaders unable to attend are asked to send a representative.

CONFUSED ABOUT AUTO LOAN RATES?

Most people are! A few years ago the Federal Government passed a law to help the public understand the true cost of borrowing money. One aspect of the law requires the lender to quote "THE ANNUAL PERCENTAGE RATE" on the loan. This is the best way for the borrower to know the cost of his loan and also a fair way to compare one lender's rate with another.

If you are planning to borrow money for any purpose be sure to ask for the "ANNUAL PERCENTAGE RATE" when you inquire about the cost of your loan. It can save you many dollars!

Shopping for a new car? Be sure that you shop for your car loan as carefully as you shop for your car. Take the time to understand the true cost of your loan in actual dollars and "ANNUAL PERCENTAGE RATE."

To help you with shopping for a car loan, we suggest you clip out the "Car Loan Shoppers' Guide" below which has been designed to help you ask the right questions to make a fair comparison. Let us know if it works for you!

Conversation

The French conversation group will begin on Monday, Sept. 25 in the library at 8 p.m. Anyone who is interested in keeping up his language facility is welcome to attend the meetings. There will be no formal instruction and no charge. Mrs. Caroline Rees will act as hostess on this date, and the members of the group will decide when and how often they will get together in the future. Spanish conversation groups will be started also if there is enough interest.

Opera Club

The first meeting of the new year for the Library Opera Club will take place on Sept. 28 at 8 p.m. The group will gather at the home of Mrs. Harry McCormick at 4 Elysian Drive. Any person who enjoys opera is cordially invited to attend. A fee of $1.00 is collected at each meeting to cover the costs of the instructor, Mrs. Lotte Bertheim, who tapes the music from live performances or from the finest quality recordings. The group will listen to the music of Die Meistersinger by Wagner at the first meeting.

Great Books

The fall session of the Great Books Discussion Group gets under way on Tuesday, Sept. 26, at 7:30 p.m. Robert Rockwell will continue as leader of the group which meets the second and fourth Tuesday of each month. Barbara Ward's Airship Earth is the first book on the schedule for discussion.

Children's Room

Hey! What are you doing this Fall? This is what we are doing. Join us!

It's a Pajama Party Thursday nights from 6:15 - 7:15 for youngsters between 3-1/2 and 5 years old who are not in Littlest Listeners. Join us for stories, games, records and lots of fun! We will meet September 21 and five Thursdays thereafter. Come and register tonight!

Vibor is back! It is our Very Important Board of Review. Children from grades 4 to 6 are eagerly welcome on Tuesday afternoons at 3:45. You'll be reading book reviews and publishers catalogs to help the librarian select books for the Children's Room. In addition, you will be reviewing books we do receive so that other children will know if they are good.

Bring your voices on alternate Saturday afternoons beginning September 30 because we are Singing Folksongs. Two groups will meet. If you are in grades 1 - 4, come from 1:30 to 2:30. Anyone in grades 5 - 8 is welcome from 3 - 4 p.m. We will have a guitar, the words, and some music. If you have a guitar bring it along too!

Littlest Listeners will be in full swing again. We'll be sharing stories, games, filmstrips, records, and fun on Tuesday and Wednesday mornings (you choose) from 10-11 o'clock. There will be four groups of children age 3-1/2 to 5 years each of which will meet alternate weeks beginning the first week in October and continuing through to May except for school vacations. Sign up by Sept. 23.

Grade school children are invited to The Thursday Thing after school on Thursday at 3:45 beginning on Sept. 28. We'll be telling "big kid" stories and showing films on alternate weeks. Stories on Sept. 28, Oct. 12, 26, Nov. 9, 30, and Dec. 15. Films will be on Oct. 5, 19, Nov. 2, 16 (we won't meet on Thanksgiving) and Dec. 7. We might even have a chance to preview some new films for Boston Public Library. You can help us decide how good they are. Come, you're opinion counts.

On the Saturdays when we are not singing, children from grades 1 to 4 are invited to come to Puppet Party from 2 to 3 o'clock beginning Sept. 23. Sign up by Sept. to make your own puppet and a puppet theatre, then write your own puppet play and perform it. Sound like fun? Try it!

To Receive New Members At Church

New members will be received at Faith Lutheran Church this Sunday during the 11 a.m. Service.

Those being received will include: Dr. and Mrs. Doug Browall of North Andover; Miss Joan Novak, Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Hand and their daughter Rebecca from Andover; Mr. and Mrs. Don Jemlich and their two children from Lawrence; and Mr. and Mrs. James Thomforde and their two children from Methuen.

Following the Service a coffee hour will be sponsored by the Lutheran Church Women.

Christ Church Nursery School Begins Year

Christ Church Nursery school has begun its fourth year of operation with Mrs. Elaine Viehmann, teacher director and Mrs. Harriet Gilday, teacher.

Band Parents Meet

The Andover Band Parents will conduct their first meeting at the Music Room of the high school at 8 p.m., Monday, Sept. 25. The Band Parents would like to extend a welcome to all parents of choral students to meet with them.

Freshman

Barbara Louise Hempstead, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles F. Hempstead, 8 Sagamore Drive, is enrolled as a freshman for the fall term at Jackson College, Tufts University. She is a 1972 graduate of Andover High School.

BUSY PROSPECT BEST

Once you list your home with a Realtor, it's up to him to find a buyer fast. Normally, he'll arrange appointments to view the home which are convenient to both parties. That's always nice.

Sometimes, however, prospects are on tight schedules, requiring your Realtor to make last-minute appointments. Don't get annoyed. I'd like to have a dollar for every sale consummated on a last-minute appointment. Believe me, these are the best ones. Why?

Often, prospects who are transferring into your area, are on short househunting visits. They don't have the luxury of time on their side. And they want and need a house now - not in a year. The busy prospect is also more apt to make an immediate offer to buy than one who has all the time in the world. So, if you really want to sell your house in a hurry, treat the last-minute appointment as an opportunity - not as an inconvenience.

Beacon Hill Observations

By Bill Kirtz

"We don't have all the answers but we can get them. And we can provide concrete information instead of speculation."

That's how its director describes the state's Student Service Center, a first-in-the-nation bid to help Massachusetts students help themselves.

Rene Bouchard, who supervises phone-answering activities and research efforts at the Center's Boston locale, hopes to aid pupils throughout the state in improving their schools.

"Our first order of advice is to go with the current policy and try to change it," he says. "We give them examples of how new ideas have been introduced in other districts."

Drug and "open campus" questions predominate as the Center starts its second full academic year.

"There's a great deal of student interest in alternatives to present education," says Mr. Bouchard, "and there's no doubt that the kids are more than willing to work within the established framework."

"They really want the same thing as the professional educators and the taxpayers -- better schools."

Does the Center clash with established ways of doing things?

"There are some misconceptions about what we do," says Bouchard, "but nearly everyone wants to involve students more and more in their own education."

The drug issue seems to be a sticky one for a state agency to handle, but the director notes good police and school administration cooperation with students' efforts to establish drop-in centers and arrange special seminars on the drug problem.

A look at the Center's log of calls shows a wide variety of inquiries: on scholarship data, on "humanizing" the school process, on "free schools," on wilderness survival programs, on newspaper censorship regulations and -- finally -- the inevitable inquiry about haircut regulations.

If Center staffers -- themselves high school students paid by the hour -- can't answer questions on the spot, they research the matter and call back or refer the caller to another agency.

Center hours are 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. Mondays through Fridays. The Boston number is 1-727-5757.

Mr. Bouchard notes that students can also make appointments to come in and chat about their problems, although he concedes this is a big order for pupils in the western part of the state.

So he hopes to start a Springfield branch shortly -- with the same kind of student help that led to the Center's establishment in Boston in 1971.

Merrimack To Mark Anniversary

It's beginning to look like Thursday, Sept. 28, 1972 will be Merrimack College Day. Twenty-five years to the day, Merrimack College with a faculty comprised of eight Augustinian priests and five lay instructors opened its doors to 165 Merrimack Valley students.

To commemorate the Silver Anniversary of the granting of the state's charter and the beginning of classes, Merrimack College will honor the Commonwealth of Massachusetts and its chief representative, Governor Francis W. Sargent at a Special Academic Convocation on Thursday, Sept. 28 in the Collegiate Chapel of Christ The Teacher at 3:30 p.m. Merrimack College President, Rev. John R. Aherne, O.S.A. announced that Governor Sargent will be awarded the honorary degree, Doctor of Laws, and Rev. Thomas F. Walsh, O.S.A. will be honored with a special citation for his twenty-two years of service to Merrimack.

Another activity planned for Thursday, Sept. 28 will be a "Community Tribute to the Augustinians" for their service to the Greater Lawrence area since 1848 and in the formation of Merrimack College in 1947. Sponsored by the Men of Merrimack, the Ladies of Merrimack, and the Merrimack College Alumni Association in conjunction with the Greater Lawrence Chamber of Commerce and Greater Lawrence business leaders, the "Community Tribute to the Augustinians" will be held in Lawrence Central Catholic High School Auditorium at 7:30 p.m.

Members of the Planning Committee for the "Community Tribute to the Augustinians" include:

Roger N. Bower, President, Lawrence Savings Bank; James E. Ellis, Executive Vice-President, Greater Lawrence Chamber of Commerce; Harry E. Youngman, Manager, Industrial and Labor Relations, Western Electric, Co.; John W. Connors, Director of Public Relations, Public Affairs and Safety, Western Electric Co.; Ronald E.

Theologians At Lecture Series

The Deans of both the Harvard and the Yale Divinity Schools, a distinguished theologian from Canada, the Director of the Graduate Institute for Religious Education at Boston College, and the chairmen of the departments of Philosophy at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology and the University of Rhode Island
will highlight the Arlington Trust
Merrimack College Lecture Series at the North Andover campus this Fall.

The theme of this year's lecture series will be "Religion in a Secular Age."

The lecture series which is now entering its sixth consecutive year is sponsored by the Department of Religious Studies at Merrimack College. Since 1970, these public lectures have been funded by two generous grants from the Arlington Trust Company of Lawrence. In announcing this year's lecture series, Rev. George P. Lawless,

O.S.A., Chairman of the Religious Studies Department, expressed his appreciation for the continued
funding of the Arlington Trust Company in making these significant speakers available to students and residents of Greater Boston and the Merrimack Valley.

Since the inauguration of the lecture series in 1967, some twenty theologians have visited the Merrimack College campus:
four European Scholars; one
Canadian theologian; the others,
American. Past lecture series themes included: Marriage Enrichment; The Church and the Pull of the Future; Student Responsibility; Christian Faith and Contemporary Issues; and Twentieth Century Protestant Thought.

The first talk on "God, Age,
Culture and Self" will be given
Sept. 26 by Rev. John R. Mc-Call, S. J., Graduate Professor of the Psychology of Religion at Boston College. Fr. McCall is well known as a lecturer on Educational Television.

Colin W. Williams, Dean of the Divinity School at Yale University, will address himself to the question: "Is Man Incurably Religious?" on Oct. 10. A native of Australia, Dean Williams is the author of Faith In A Secular Age, Where In The World?, John Wes-ley's Theology Today, and other books.

David Freeman, Chairman of the Department of Philosophy at the University of Rhode Island,
will lecture on "Religion and Science: A Philosophical Inquiry
on Oct. 17.

Rev. Gregory Baum, O.S.A.,
Professor of Systematic Theology at the Toronto Graduate School of Theological Studies will lecture on "Religion In An Age of Technology on October 31. A peritus at the Second Vatican Council, Fr. Baum is editor of The Ecumenist and author of many articles and books in the area of contemporary theology.

Harvard Dean, and John Lord
O'Brien Professor of Divinity, Krister Stendahl will lecture on
"The Church of the Future"
November 14. Rev. Dr. Stendahl is a New Testament scholar and Editor of the Harvard Theological Review.

In the final lecture, Dr. Huston
Smith, Professor of Philosophy at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology will speak on "The Tibetan Tradition" Nov. 30. Dr.
Smith is author of The Religions of Man, a book which is used as a text for most introductory collegiate courses in religion.

Each lecture in the series will be given in the Church Auditorium at Merrimack at 8 p.m.
Fr. Lawless expressed the hope that students from schools other than Merrimack as well as people from the North Shore communities will take advantage of the free admission to such a splendid roster of lecturers.

Further information on the Arlington Trust-Merrimack College Lecture Series may be obtained from the Department of Religious Studies at Merrimack.

Associates Meet

Nagle Associates will hold a

Mrs. Kline DAR Chairman

Mrs. Leonard W. Kline, 30 Village Green Drive, North Andover, is one of the chairmen planning the Fall State Meeting of the Massachusetts Daughters of the American Revolution, which will take place on Friday and Saturday, Sept. 29 and 30 at the Colonial Hilton Inn, Pittsfield.

As Chairman of Pages, Mrs. Kline is in charge of the Junior Members of the organization who are assigned certain duties to help the conference run smoothly. Her little daughters, Anna and Eliza, will accompany her, and will act as Personal Pages to the State Regent, Mrs. George C. Houser. They are members of Samuel Osgood Society, Children of the American Revolution.

The first session of the meeting will be called to order by Mrs. Houser at 1:30 Friday afternoon. On Friday evening a reception for guests and state officers will precede a banquet, and on Saturday a 9:30 business session will be followed by a 12:30 luncheon.

Current Outstanding Junior of Massachusetts, Mrs. Kline is active in DAR affairs, particularly those involving members aged 18 - 35 -- Juniors. The luncheon on Saturday will emphasize these Junior activities, and the speaker will be Mrs. Donald J. Gonchar of Falls Church, Va., National Chairman of Junior Membership. A special guest will be Mrs. Warren D. Wylie, National Vice Chairman of Junior Membership for the Northeast Division. Massachusetts Chairman of Junior Membership is Mrs. Glen A. Bean, Westfield.

A third of the total National DAR membership are Juniors, 2,565 new Junior members having been added during the past year. These young women have several projects of their own. One is the Helen Pouch Memorial Fund, benefitting two DAR-supported schools. During the last year contributions to this fund totalled $22,833. They have supplied Hillside School for Boys, Marlborough, with athletic equipment, projectors and screens, and are currently raising money for books, as well as for a "Junior Membership Arts and Crafts Center" at Tamassee DAR School, Tamassee, S.C.

Their Bicentennial Project is the selling of "Armetale" plates embossed with the DAR crest, all proceeds to go to the DAR President - General's Bicentennial project, "A Gift to the Nation," the furnishing of two rooms for Independence Hall, Philadelphia. During the Fall State Meeting the Juniors will be selling costume jewelry, stationery, and other items, and will have an exhibit in the foyer. They are also serving a continental breakfast on Saturday morning, proceeds to go toward their projects.

On both Friday and Saturday reports of State officers and Chairmen will be heard. The featured speaker on Friday afternoon will be Robert Lear, State Forester with the Commonwealth Department of Natural Resources. Discussing conservation of natural resources in connection with the DAR State Forest, Mr. Lear will describe the 1020-acre tract of land which occupies a range of hills from More's Hill at the north, with the western slopes reaching Highland Lake and the Upper Reservoir in the west.

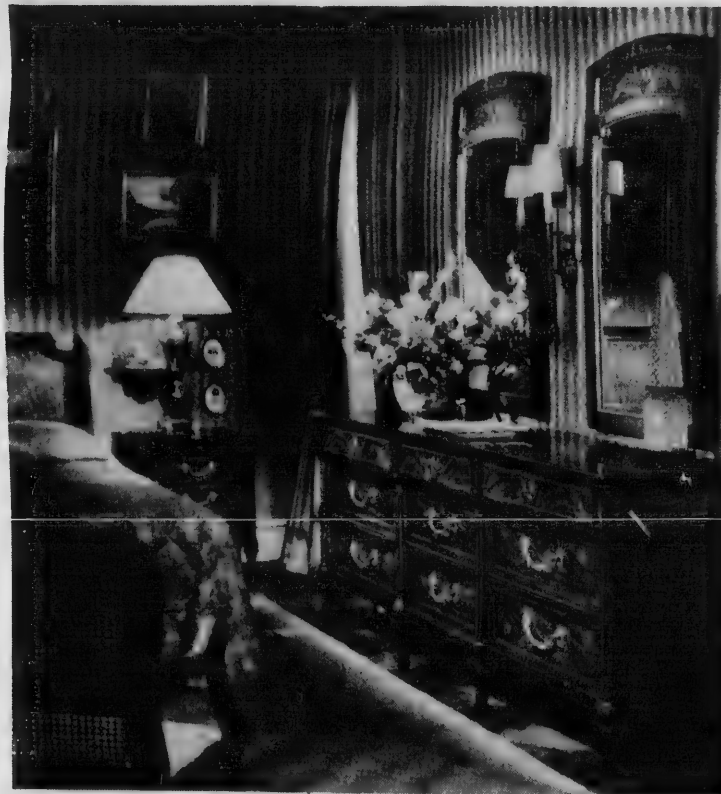

Presented to the Commonwealth by the Massachusetts DAR in 1929, it was purchased at a cost of five dollars an acre. The heavily wooded area, which is in the towns of Goshen and Ashfield, is now worth close to 100 times that amount. It contains areas for picnicking, camping, and swimming. No hunting is permitted, as the purpose of the forest is conservation as well as recreation. The first DAR State Forest in the country, it is dedicated to DAR members both past and present, and to their patriotic devotion to their country and its ideals.

This devotion is also shown by the formation of the Committee of DAR Service for Veterans - Patients, authorized this past year by the National Society, DAR. It concentrates on volunteer work among patients in the Veterans Administration hospitals, as well as veteran-patients in nursing homes and private homes. Miss Elizabeth B. Storer, Needham, National Vice Chairman for the Northeast Division, is also Massachusetts State Chairman, and has been active in volunteer work for some time.

Mrs. Edward J. Dymek, Jr.

Dymek - Lynch

Miss Mary Jane Lynch and Edward Joseph Dymek, Jr., were united in marriage on Saturday, Sept. 16, at St. Michael's Church in East Longmeadow.

Miss Lynch, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond F. Lynch of East Longmeadow, was supervisor of children's services at Memorial Hall Library before her marriage.

Mr. Dymek is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward J. Dymek of Thompsonville, Conn.

Rev. Charles G. Noel, O.S.A., of Putney, Vt., a cousin of the bride, officiated at the wedding. Miss Clare Flynn of Pittsfield, cousin of the bride, was lector, and Miss Lynch was given in marriage by her father.

The music featured Handel's Water Music Suite and Music for Royal Fireworks.

The bride wore a gown of white silk organza which she had styled herself. It had a raised waistline, controlled bell skirt, bodice of honeycomber smocking, sheer three-quarter length sleeves with ruffled trim at the cuffs, and at the gown's neckline, a wide white satin bow and streamers. Her veil was floor-length of silk illusion, attached to a crown of silk flowers accented with seed pearls.

She carried a traditional bouquet of stephanotis, roses and baby's breath.

The bride's sister, Mrs. David Weekes, of Enfield, Conn., wore a purple gown with raised waistline, controlled bell skirt and a fitted bodice, with scoop neckline and cap sleeves. The bridesmaids, a sister, Mrs. Gloria Yusko of New London, Conn., and Miss Jane M. Joyce of New Rochelle, N.Y., wore identical gowns of peacock blue. All carried bachelor buttons, pink sweetheart roses and baby's breath. Miss Dorisa Yusko, the flower girl, wore a similar gown in purple and peacock blue floral print and carried a miniature bouquet.

The couple left for a wedding trip to Rockport, after the reception. They will be at home after Sept. 23 in Suffield, Conn.

The bride is a graduate of East Longmeadow High School, College of New Rochelle, N.Y., and the Simmons College Graduate School of Library Science. She will be head of Children's services at the Curtis Memorial Library in Meriden, Conn.

Miss Gower Betrothed

Mr. and Mrs. Bruce H. Gower of 13 Argyle St., announce the engagement of their daughter, Beth, to Mr. William Brooke Owens, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. William Brooke Owens of West Simsbury, Conn.

SEEK VOLUNTEERS. A volunteer program for St. Ann's Home in Methuen has been initiated under direction of William Sheehy, right, along with Edward O'Brien and Mrs. Daniel Murphy, III.

Volunteer Program Begins

The Community Relations Committee of the Board of Directors of St. Ann's Home in cooperation with William Sheehy, Coordinator of Volunteers, has recently inaugurated a volunteer program for the Center.

Mr. Sheehy has recently conducted an orientation program for the staff regarding roles volunteers may play. A panel composed of Mrs. Betty Landy, Mrs. Anne U. Vargus and Tom Kelly spoke with the staff at a recent meeting concerning their own experiences both as coordinators of volunteer programs and as volunteers themselves.

Since St. Ann's cares for some 68 boys and girls ranging in age from 5-1/2 to 16, there are a wide range of possibilities for volunteers. Those who are interested may work in the special school, on the units where the children live, for the nursing service, or clinical services, within the library, or in a variety of indirect service tasks. An orientation program for volunteers is planned under the direction of Mr. Sheehy.

Those interested in becoming volunteers are encouraged to contact William Sheehy at St. Ann's Home. An interview will be scheduled.

Industrial Fair Set For Nov. 16

The Greater Lawrence Industrial Fair will take place on Thursday, Friday and Saturday, Nov. 16, 17 and 18 at the Greater Lawrence Regional Vocational Technical High School, River Road, according to Paul J. Stralitz, show coordinator.

Spearheaded jointly by Industrial Commissions of Andover, Lawrence, Methuen and North Andover, the three day event will, according to Stralitz "provide a showcase of goods and services of industry in the Greater Lawrence area."

Committee organizational meetings have already been held and chairman and co-chairmen have accepted responsibility for various assignments which include: Robert Guptill, of the Raytheon Company and Jack E. Driscoll of Western Electric will serve as co-chairmen of the Industry Committee. Local Merchants Committee will be co-chaired by Robin Neill of Andover, John Weir of Lawrence, Arthur Miller of Methuen and Leonard Albis of North Andover. Local Government, John Lewis, Andover; Fred T. Ead, Lawrence; Daniel Dodson, Methuen; and Jack Erle, North Andover.

Contractors and members of the Real Estate profession co-chairmen are Alfred Torrisi and John Williams and chairman of the Schools Committee is Robert Hatem of Merrimack College. Service Clubs and Civic Organization Committee chairman is Attorney James G. Hajjar. Utilities Committee chairman will be Charles Papalia while Henry Anzalone of ITT Semiconductors and Horace Poynter Jr. of Andover will be in charge of Display Standards Committee assignments.

Finance Committee co-chairmen are local bankers, Charles Avallone and Roger N. Bowers; Seminar chairman is Professor Vincent Lonardo of Merrimack College and Theme and Exhibits co-chairman is Thomas Leavitt of the Merrimack Valley Textile Museum. Hospitality Committee co-chairmen include Vincent Foley and Joseph F. Sweeney. Co-chairman of Fashion Show Committee is John Goodwill, of Malden Mills.

Assisting Stralitz in the overall development of the Industrial Fair is William H. Campbell, III, of Honeywell Information Systems, Incorporated, who will serve as Program Supervisor.

Scripture Courses Are Offered

Five outstanding features are offered during the month of October by the Adult Religious Education Department of the Christian Formation Center. Two Scripture Courses - one under the leadership of Carole Bohn at 8 p.m. every Wednesday from Oct. 4 to Nov. 8, comprising an enlightening study of the Gospel of Matthew, and another directed by Mary Barker, whose extensive background in the field of Religious Education enables her to share her knowledge of the Old Testament on eight consecutive Tuesdays, beginning Oct. 3 and ending on Nov. 21.

An Evening of Recollection for Sisters promises to be an outstanding event under the direction of Father Jon Martin, a successful leader in Religious group movements and Retreats for Religious. This will take place Friday, Oct. 20, 4:30 - 8:30 p.m. Conferences, Discussions, Liturgy and a Buffet Supper will make up a very interesting program.

Father Luke Ciampi, O.F.M. will give a Professional Writing Course, which will be of tremendous value to writers and publishers of feature articles and those who wish to perfect their techniques. At least a High School background in writing is required. This course will cover ten Tuesdays from Sept 26 to Nov. 28, inclusive.

A special Liturgy - Scripture Program will be conducted every Thursday evening for all who are interested from 8 - 10 p.m.

Please contact the Christian Formation Center for any information you desire in regard to our October Religious Education Programs and Activities.

Century Barbers - Hairstyling That's "In"

The trend for men's hair styling in the 70's is toward a slightly shorter length and a well groomed appearance. Century Barbers, 537 Chickering Road (Route 125) North Andover is the place to go for today's hair styling. Ron Wedge and Lisette Marquis, licensed barbers, have the experience and the know-how to advise you on proper styling, shaping, thinning, etc. for your type of hair and face.

Century Barbers offer complete men's hair styling services, including hair coloring, as well as expert cutting for women. Ask about their razor cutting, a process that smoothes out the hair and makes it blend in properly to the contour of your head. Ron and Lisette agree that older citizens, as well as the young crowd, are getting the smoother look in styling.

Ron Wedge, owner of Century Barbers, is a graduate of Delbec Barber College in Boston and has had 7 years experience, 4 years as proprietor of his own shop. Lisette Marquis is a graduate of New England Barber School and with 3 years experience is one of 3 lady barbers in the Greater Lawrence area. If your hair is short and you are considering wearing it longer, they will care for it through the growing stages;

if your hair is long, they can thin it and shape it without sacrificing length. They will tell you how to comb it, etc. and in 2 months you can have the style you desire. For best results, wash your hair before each haircut.

You are especially invited to bring your children to Century Barbers, particularly for their first cut. Ron and Lisette make a game out of it, so it is a happy experience instead of a traumatic one for your child. Ladies, too, can get expert hair cutting, with less waiting.

Get acquainted with Century Barbers soon... on Rte. 125, just past N. A. High School, 687-9696.

LEGAL NOTICES

To the Commissioners of Essex County
Gentlemen:

The Manager of the Town of Andover in the County of Essex, Massachusetts, thereto duly authorized, respectfully represents that the highways known as Andover Street, Red Spring Road, and River Road, are unsuited to the present requirements of travel, and that common convenience and necessity require that specific repairs be made thereon.

WHEREFORE, he prays that after due notice and a hearing the County Commissioners may order specific repairs thereon, all as in their judgment may be necessary.

LINING UP for inspection last Saturday at the dump were a steady stream of cars being checked for stickers. All non-residents were turned away at the public works department made its periodic stringent checkup on dump users. It is advisable for residents to obtain a sticker as soon as possible in order to gain entrance to the landfill area.

Teachers, Committee In Accord

Andover Education Association and School committee negotiators have reached agreement on a contract at last, Superintendent Dr. Kenneth R. Seifert announced Tuesday.

The agreement goes to the Andover Education Association membership - the schools' professional staff - this week for ratification. The superintendent said he was optimistic about a favorable vote by the teachers this week and a contract signing at the next meeting.

The structure of the teachers' day was the main area of disagreement, which went to fact finding this spring. The question was whether all of the teachers' time should be structured, or not.

Compromise was reached, according to the school committee negotiating subcommittee, Dr. Frank Griggs and William Lane.

The proposed settlement is that some teacher activities should have timetables while others, for example after school student help, cannot have time limits. The schoolmen said the negotiations brought out the differences between professional and marginal responsibilities.

This year's school contract negotiations are the longest in the half-dozen years since collective bargaining began between the town and its professional school staff. It is the first year the contract has not been settled by town meeting. Details of the contract will be available after a contract has been ratified by the AEA membership.

Professional negotiator for the school committee was Ed Marshall of Chelmsford, and for the AEA, Arnold Mendelsohn of Haverhill, both for the third year.

Mrs. Elaine Katz, who initiated the program, said that it was the happy result of cooperative efforts of Andover Ecology Action, the New England Telephone Company, which agreed to distribute the flyers, the local school system, and some local industries.

Mrs. Katz noted that the town is getting money back from its recycling sales. "If everyone cooperates, the telephone books will make a significant increase in tonnage this week. I also hope it will encourage more citizens to cooperate with the regular newspaper and bottle recycling center at the dump, and increase our revenues from this good conservation practice."

The U. S. has been the richest nation in the world since 1910.

To Recycle Telephone Directories

Don't throw your old phone book away.

Recycle it to lower the town tax rate, Andover Ecology Action urges residents.

When new telephone books are distributed in the next few days, each dropoff point will receive a flyer asking that the old telephone books be taken to the town dump's recycling center, where a special bin awaits them, for sale by the town.

Old phone books can also be taken, or sent by child-express, to any Andover public school, to join the telephone book recycling
